FOI Reference number: FOI 105/2024

Date: 13 January 2025

Request:

I am aware from official correspondence from NIPB that 'the move from Waterside Tower to James House involved Board Officials diverting resources to pack, sort and unpack all hard copy files'.

Please provide the following information:

How many staff are employed in Police Pensions and Injury Benefits Directorate?

Answer:

At the date of request there are nine staff members working within Police Pensions and Injury Benefits (PPIB) Directorate.

For how many working days were how many staff 'diverted' to pack, sort and unpack hard copy files?

Answer:

The Policing Board formally ratified the Department of Finance (DoF) proposal for the Northern Ireland Policing Board to relocate to James House on 7th May 2020. Staff were informed of the move decision and planning and preparations for relocation commenced at this stage.

From Tuesday 28 February 2023, following official confirmation that the Board would relocate on 27 March 2023, all staff within PPIB were diverted from their main role to progress the secure packing and logging of case files and boxes not already prepared for the move. Prior to this date, staff were completing preparatory work in addition to their main role.

From Monday 27 March 2023 PPIB staff, now located at James House commenced the unpacking of case files and boxes.

Over what time period i.e. what dates were these staff 'diverted' from their normal PPIB duties?

Original Answer 13 January 2025:

See response to answer above.

Answer amended 18 March 2025:
